MINDFULNESS BASED PRACTICES TO MOVE THROUGH DEPRESSION AND ANXIETY

8 FRIDAY MORNINGS:

NOW FULL – CHECK BACK FOR OUR SPRING GROUPS

Mindfulness is the practice of paying attention to what is happening in the moment – in a non-judgmental, curious way. Participants will learn to identify the patterns of thinking that contribute to anxiety and depression. Members will learn how we avoid the present moment by thinking about the future, ruminating over the past, judging, or creating story lines around the external conditions of life. A variety of mindfulness practices will be introduced so that participants can change the ways of thinking that contribute to distress. An in-person pre-group interview is required.
